

Nursing Care Quality Assurance Commission

Learning Plan

Instructions: Gather materials related to the assessment of your practice. For work sheets 1-3, gather any feedback you have collected from others. This may include your last performance review, or feedback received from colleagues or patients. Use this material to identify your strengths and the areas of your practice you want to develop further.

Strengths in my practice:

Areas to develop in my practice:

Next, create a learning plan to address your needs and interests. Your learning plan should include one to three learning objectives you can achieve within the next two years, consistent with your license renewal cycle. Relate each learning objective to an aspect of practice.

Learning Objective: I want to: _____

This learning objective relates to the following dimension of my practice: (circle one or more)

- 1) Professional responsibility 2) Knowledge-based practice 3) Legal/ethical

Learning Objective: I want to: _____

This learning objective relates to the following dimension of my practice: (circle one or more)

- 1) Professional responsibility 2) Knowledge-based practice 3) Legal/ethical

Learning Activity Options

- Certification from a nationally recognized certifying body
- Participating in courses offered online or through local colleges/nursing groups
- Participation in professional nursing organizations or employer sponsored committees
- Progress towards an advanced degree in a field related to nursing practice
- Nursing research project such as summary of findings, thesis, dissertation, abstract, or granting agency summary
- Publication or submission for publication of a health care related article, book chapter
- Presentations on a health care or health care system related topic
- Independent study

Circle your chosen learning option and keep supporting documentation for at least two years in case we select you for an audit.