• Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS is governed by the following ten individuals: Susan Cerro, president/chairman; Jeff Stickney, treasurer; David Fitzgerald, secretary; Carol Cornejo, director; Michael Sailer, director; Charles Peterson II, director; Tom Gumprecht, director; Julian Arroyo, director; Fred Huang, director; and Michael McAdam, director. Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS has approximately 55 operational practice sites located in Washington State.

Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS has approximately 150 owning physicians.

On August 12, 1996, Tri-City Regional Surgery Center¹, obtained an exemption from Certificate of Need review for the establishment of an ASC located at 1096 North Goethals in Richland [99352], within Benton County.

This application proposes to purchase and relocate the exempt ASC known as Tri-City Regional Surgery Center currently located at 1096 Goethals Drive in Richland [99352].

After the purchase, the ASC will be operated under the practice corporation of Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS. The ASC will also be relocated to a new site in Richland at 1351 Fowler Street [99352].

The surgery center will continue to have five operating rooms and support space.

The change of ownership and relocation for Tri-City Regional Surgery Center requires a new exemption for the ASC under the new ownership and new location.

At this time, nine physicians intend to use the ASC. Future owners or employees may have access to the ASC.² Specific physician credentialing information and practice association is below.

The procedures proposed include those typically associated with orthopedic and otolaryngology. A listing of common procedures is included in the exemption application.

The ASC will not be operated as a separate legal entity from the Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS practice.

No management agreement is proposed.

² Employed physicians must be employed by Proliance Surgeons, Inc. PS a minimum of 75% and perform their full range of services through Proliance Surgeons, Inc. PS.
CONCLUSION
Based on the totality of information considered, the department concludes the proposed ASC would be exempt from Certificate of Need review. This exemption is not transferable and the conclusions reached concerning this proposed ASC are based on the facts about this facility and it should not be assumed the department would reach the same conclusion in future exemption requests for other future ASCs.

If changes are made in the operation or ownership of this proposed ASC, the ASC may no longer be eligible for this exemption. In that case, prior Certificate of Need review and approval or new exemption would be required. Examples of such changes include the following. This list is not intended to be all inclusive.

- The scope of services is expanded to include services subject to Certificate of Need review under the provisions of WAC 246-310-020.
- The provision of any procedure as identified under WAC 246-310-705(4).
- The ASC is operated under a management agreement.
- The ASC is organized as a separate legal entity from the practice.
- The ASC is moved to a different site than identified in the exemption application.
- Use of the ASC is extended to any physician who is not a member/owner or employed by Proliance Surgeons, Inc., PS.
- The ASC ceases operations or relinquishes its Medicare certification and then chooses to resume services as an ASC.
- The ASC or the practice is purchased or leased.
- ASC patients are routinely transferred from the ASC for observation care at one of the area’s hospitals.
