In order to be licensed in Washington, an applicant must have graduated from a school or college of pharmacy, which is accredited by the commission.

An accredited school or college of pharmacy is an institution, which meets the minimum standards of the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education and appears on the directory of accredited schools or colleges of pharmacy.