Insurance Navigation Program

Are you a parent of a person suspected of or diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) or Developmental Disability (DD) related to ASD? Did you know insurance covers therapies like speech therapy, occupational therapy or behavior therapy as well as other medically necessary services? Washington Autism Alliance and Advocacy (WAAA) is here to help you navigate the insurance system, whether it is public (Apple Health/Medicaid) or private insurance. We want to help you by empowering you with information and advocacy resources to ensure that your loved one is getting the best possible access to programs that support ASD/DD. We also help families determine if they are eligible to receive the Premium Payment Program (PPP). The PPP provides reimbursement for private health insurance premiums when an Apple Health client has access to private health insurance coverage, such as through an employer or private policy.
