Executive Director, Steve Saxe attended a CRP Project stakeholder meeting, where there was an update of the current status of the program. They report about 20 cases have been certified by the CRP Review panel. It was mentioned that a pharmacist is part of the CRP Review Panel.

A panel presented one case and how it worked through the process. They discussed some of the challenges and learnings. This was followed by a presentation by the plaintiffs’ bar discussing how the CRP works within the existing system and some of the challenges. Also Dr. Alden Roberts, Chair of the Medical Commission discussed the process from the Commissions perspective, how they will consider the CRP report in the enforcement process and how the CRP report may influences but does not determine the Commission decision.

The Pharmacy Commission has reviewed and is interested in the CRP process as a way to support continual improvement and Just Culture. Last year the Commission wanted to continue to monitor the experience of the Medical Commission. In addition the Board of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery is considering entering into a memorandum of understanding with the CRP program.

The Commission suggested the sub-committee meet with the Medical Commission or CRP and bring back a recommendation to the Commission on whether or not they should consider an MOU. Commissioners Tim Lynch, Ken Kenyon and Olgy Diaz are identified as the sub-committee.

5. Open Forum
Carol Garrand, Director Operations of ProPacPayless Pharmacy. Wanted clarifications regarding therapeutic substitution. She feels there is contradictory language in the RCWs vs the WAC. Her concern is that they are being compliant in substituting medications. She wanted clarification on the product selection responsibilities and what a pharmacist may utilize as a basis of their decision. Clarify that a pharmacist is not required to use one of these references in WAC 246-899-030.

Dawn Sasse, from Columbia River shared a comment regarding therapeutic substitutions that some insurance carriers are no longer covering compounds when it comes to therapeutic substitutions.

Staff will gather information and formulate a response that is more concise and encompasses the concerns brought forward.

The Opioid Response Workgroup had two items that they asked the Pharmacy Commission to facilitate the collection of stakeholder input.

Based on work to date on the rule rewrite project, staff will update the list of potential items to review, do stakeholder work and consider for future legislative requests.

Staff will set up a stakeholder meeting for more input in April 2019 to cover future legislative work.
