   - The Commission on Dental Accreditation process is a seven year assessment, with year six consisting of a self-assessment.
   - The DLOSCE assesses diagnosis, treatment planning, treatment, critical thinking, clinical reasoning, and problem solving skills as well as pediatric, geriatric, special needs, and medically complex cases.
   - The DLOSCE pilot program is ready and is the testing phase. New Oregon and Washington graduates have been offered the exam.
   - The portability of licensure for individuals taking the DLOSCE is a concern that has been identified.
   - It is the responsibility of deans to not graduate students when necessary to protect the public.
   - The recommendation in Canada is to provide remediation if the OSCE is failed.

3. LEGISLATION

3.1. Dr. Marsh reported to the commission on the Department of Health weekly “Meet Me Call” conference calls.
   - Senate Bill 6061 requiring training for dentists practicing teledentistry passed.
   - House Bill 2438 involving collecting data on dental prescribing and opioid impact did not pass.
   - House Bill 1317 would have expanded the commission to 18 members, including two dental therapists but did not pass.

3.2. The commission discussed 2020 legislation.
• Dr. Marsh shared that Senate Bill 6551 regarding international physicians could impact dentistry in the future.
• Ms. Santiago shared that House Bill 1551, which repeals the HIV/AIDS training requirement for health professions, passed and will require future rule writing. This rule writing could be accomplished as an exception filing (CR-105).

10. BOTULINUM TOXIN INJECTION / DERMAL FILLERS / PLASMA INJECTIONS

The commission discussed the Washington State Dental Association January 2020 proposed recommendation.

- Ms. Lovell presented information to the commission about the proposed document.
  - The guideline was the result of concerns in the medical community regarding dentists performing botulinum toxin injections. The intent is to use it in the interim while awaiting legislative changes regarding the dental scope of practice.
  - Dr. Marsh asked if the WSDA wanted the commission to write a new interpretive statement, or use the WSDA’s proposed document as a guideline.
  - Ms. Lovell indicated that the intent was for the commission to use it as a guideline.
  - Dr. Stevens clarified that any procedure dentists perform still has to be within the standard of care, and suggested leaving the issue to the legislature to resolve with a statute change.
  - Dr. Walia agreed that this should be resolved with a statute change.
  - Dr. Hall agreed and stated his opinion that this document could confuse the public.
  - Ms. Lovell shared that the document could still be helpful in alleviating concerns while awaiting legislative change, and requested clarification in what the perceived harm is in using it as a guideline.
  - Dr. Stevens expressed concerns that the document attempts to define something the commission does not have authority to define.
  - Ms. Lovell shared that the physicians’ community also has concerns about training.
  - Ms. Lovell suggested reducing the document to a training attestation.
  - Dr. Stevens asked how the commission would be able to prove the information provided in the attestation.
  - Dr. Marsh suggested the commission write a new interpretive statement.
  - Dr. Richardson suggested the guideline be included in a newsletter article.
  - Dr. Stevens offered to consider it for an upcoming newsletter issue.
  - Dr. Liu expressed concerns about providing any sort of guiding document that could further confuse the issue, and about requesting a statute change.
o Dr. Stevens disagreed with Dr. Liu’s concerns and suggested the Department of Health (Department) share challenges practitioners are experiencing due to the definition of the dental scope of practice when the request is presented to the legislature.

o Dr. Carsten suggested Washington adopt the ADA definition of dentistry.

o Ms. Lovell cautioned to be very mindful of stakeholders if the ADA definition were to be adopted due to previous concerns voiced from the medical community.

o Dr. Liu shared his prediction that the dental hygienists would have concerns as well, and that the legislature would ask the Department for a solution.

o Ms. Lovell expressed concerns that a legislative change would open the whole statute for discussion.

o Ms. Crawford clarified that the Department is aware of the concerns and aware that stakeholder work would need to take place.

o Ms. Lovell shared that the WSDA’s attorney would like to discuss case law at a future meeting. Dr. Richman indicated that this was already planned for a future meeting.
