All programs must provide the following documents with your application. See the Training Program Handbook. Please label each section with addendum A, B, C, D, E or F.

A. Program facility, equipment and policies:
   • A description of the classroom, laboratory and library facilities.
   • A list of equipment and supplies on hand (or accessible) for use in the training program, appropriate to the level of training. See the Department of Health website for a list of equipment.
   • A description of course prerequisites, selection criteria, and process used to screen applicants for each EMS level of training you will provide.

B. An example of a certificate or letter of completion meeting the Department requirements. See the Department of Health website for a sample document.
C. Distributive Education (if provided):
Current EMS Education Standards allow distributive instruction of EMS education, combining in-class education with out-of-class course work and use of electronic media (web-based, off line computer, etc.). The education must use content and information from the Washington Amended National EMS Instructor Guidelines, National EMS Education Standards, and National EMS Scope of Practice model documents. Washington Amended National EMS Education Standards provide estimated course length, with total course length based on student competency, not hours.
Please identify how the program will address each of the following key points if you are using this method.

☐ Course material can be delivered in multiple formats such as:
  • Independent student preparation.
  • Synchronous (two-way) or asynchronous (one-way) video and voice electronic media.
  • Face to face instruction.
  • Pre or co-requisites for entry into the course.

☐ Students must attend practical skills lab sessions overseen in person by the SEI or lead instructor and current EMS evaluators. Electronic media cannot be used in the practical skills of the EMS education.

D. A student handbook:
Submitted for all levels of EMS training conducted that provides the following:

☐ Training program policies, including minimum standards to enter training consistent with WAC 246-976.

☐ Course requirements and minimum standards required for successful completion of examinations, clinical/field internship rotations, and the EMS course;

☐ Initial certification requirements the student must meet to become certified as identified in WAC 246-976-141; and

☐ A listing of clinical and field internship sites available to students.

E. Explain the need for a new or additional EMS Training Program:

☐ Applicants must justify the need to begin a new additional EMS Training Program in the county or area in writing for review by the Local or Regional EMS Council.

☐ Applicants must provide a five-year sustainability plan to assure consistent, ongoing training over the five-year approval period. The sustainability plan must be consistent with the regional training plan.

F. CAAHEP Accreditation:
New paramedic training program applicants must also include the CoAEMSP Letter Of Review (LOR) or proof of CAAHEP accreditation with this application.
If you are applying to obtain approval as a new paramedic training program you must also complete the following:

The Department of Health (department) approves EMS Training programs in Washington State and requires paramedic training programs be accredited by the Committee on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP). The Committee on Accreditation of Educational Programs for the EMS-Professional (CoAEMSP) conducts the review and site visit for CAAHEP.

For students that begin paramedic training on or after January 1, 2013, the National Registry of EMTs (NREMT) requires paramedic candidates to successfully complete a course from a program that is fully accredited by the Commission on the Accreditation of EMS Programs (CoAEMSP); or has a Letter of Review (LOR) issued by CoAEMSP. The LOR is the official designation that a Paramedic program is in the “Becoming Accredited” process. A copy of the training program’s LOR must accompany this application.

To Begin The Accreditation Process:

For technical assistance in completing the application process, contact the Department of Health’s Office of Community Health Systems, EMS and Trauma Section at (360) 236-2840.

1. Go to www.caahep.org to complete the Request for Accreditation Services prior to submitting the Initial-Accreditation Self Study Report (ISSR) or the Letter of Review Self Study Report (LSSR).

2. Contact CoAEMSP at 214-703-8445 to obtain all requirements for obtaining the LOR and receiving formal accreditation. Additional information about receiving accreditation is on the CoAEMSP website at: http://www.coaemsp.org/Becoming_Accredited.htm.

3. Do not start a paramedic-training course without an LOR or full accreditation. Students cannot complete the NREMT paramedic examinations if your program is not accredited or does not have an LOR. Additionally, students will not meet the education and examination requirements for paramedic certification in Washington State.

To apply for paramedic training program approval:

- Complete an EMS Training Program Application.
- Provide the application and all attachments to the Local EMS and Trauma Care Council, or if one does not exist, the Regional EMS and Trauma Care Council, and the County Medical Program Director (MPD) for review and recommendation. New paramedic training program applicants must also include the CoAEMSP Letter Of Review (LOR) or proof of CAAHEP accreditation with this application.
- The Local EMS and Trauma Care Council and the County Medical Program Director must review the EMS Training Program Application, all attachments and make recommendations.
- Submit formal request to CoAEMSP to receive accreditation.
