If you have a WIC Card, you can register it to your WICShopper app. When the card is added to the app, the app offers:

- Up-to-date WIC food benefit balances
- Notifications when benefits are about to expire
- Ability to scan food items and know:
  - Is this a WIC allowed item?
  - Can I purchase this with my current WIC food benefit balance?
- Cereal and produce calculators to help keep track of benefits

3. Cereal Calculator:

This calculator helps track the number of ounces from each box of cereal before you buy cereal. This way you don’t accidentally go over your benefit amount.

- a. Select Cereal Calculator.
- b. Select Scan Item.
- c. Scan the barcode on a box of cereal.
  - Green = Allowed
  - Red = Not a WIC Item
- d. Select the calculator icon.

A scanned food item will show up green in the app, if it’s WIC allowed.
Note:
- Starting = your current WIC cereal balance.
- Cereal you scanned appears in the list.
- The app subtracts the total number of ounces for each cereal on the list and provides a remaining balance in Remaining.

4. Produce Calculator:
The app can’t scan fresh fruits and vegetables since each store uses different codes to track those items. Instead, use the calculator to track $ amounts.
- Select Produce Calculator.
- Select Add Item.
- Enter fruit or vegetable pricing and amount.
- Select Add Item.
- Item appears on list.
- Remaining balance updates.
